Sue and Harlin Hecht

By: Reagan Dolan

A legacy that began over 55 years ago- Harlin and Sue Hecht planted roots in the heart of Minnesota where they formed two of their greatest accomplishments: their family and Double-H Charolais.

Sue and Harlin were married in August of 1967 and began their story in a small apartment in Evansville, Minnesota. Sue was working as an extension economist, and Harlin was an instructor of vocational agriculture. As they grew an interest for Charolais cattle, they decided to rent land on a small farm to establish their herd. The first product of Double-H Charolais was purchased in 1968 when Harlin and Sue decided to buy their first cow, D E Lora, from a dispersal sale. In their early days of ranching, the Hecht's were successful. Lora went on to produce the very first AICA Sterling Dam of Distinction, Double-H Laura. Today, Double-H Laura hangs on the wall in the AICA office alongside Sue and Harlin's plaque in the AICA Hall of Fame.

Together, Sue and Harlin had three sons. Howard, Mark, and Dale followed alongside the leadership of their parents, and each of the boy's found success in showing at various Charolais Junior Nationals. As junior members, Mark and Howard both had the honor of serving as AIJCA President. Dale served on the AIJCA board and was awarded Junior Herdsman of the Year. Currently, Double-H Charolais continues to operate as a family affair, and the Hecht grandchildren compete at Junior National shows each year.

As Minnesota natives, Harlin and Sue have devoted countless years as exhibitors at the Minnesota State Fair. For over 50 consecutive years, the Hechts have shown their Charolais cattle at the state fair. Beginning with their involvement in the Minnesota Charolais Association, the couple learned to utilize leadership and create relationships with others in the industry. In 1996, Harlin Hecht was the inaugural Charolais breeder inductee to the Minnesota Livestock Hall of Fame.

The Hecht family has been dedicated to the Charolais cattle business for many years. Harlin served as the AICA President from 2011-2012, and still actively serves on AICA committees. Sue is an active member of Charolais Dees, as well as an active member of various AICA committees. Harlin and Sue have been honorees at the 40th National Charolais Show at the Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo, as well as the 1990 AIJCA Conference Honorees. Altogether, Sue and Harlin's involvement, contributions, and leadership abilities earned them an even greater accomplishment; being inducted into the AICA Hall of Fame. Harlin and Sue are fortunate and grateful for each award they receive, especially one with such high prestige.

"Our favorite memory for us was to be inducted into the AICA Hall of Fame. We never expected something like this, but it was an amazing honor." -Harlin and Sue Hecht

The Charolais business has created lifelong lessons for the Hechts. As servants in the industry, Sue and Harlin have flourished on personal levels, which helped them to earn leadership roles. For Sue, those leadership roles and AIJCA events initiated their children's involvement in the industry.

"You need to get involved and join committees on all levels. Travelling to shows and leadership conferences helped our kids to learn communication and networking skills. Today we have made lots of friends and our close circle has been formed through the Charolais family," - Sue Hecht.

Those who interact with Sue and Harlin see the true passion they carry for the Charolais industry. Their honest and reliable dedication to the breed is observed by many.

"Harlin and Sue have done well because they believe in their product and love to promote Charolais with everyone. They have been very successful with Charolais, but even more so with their family. They have raised a great set of sons!"

- Dennis Adams, Outfront Cattle Service

Conference Honoree

Don Olsen

Patient, genuine, kind; few of many notable ways to describe Don Olsen and his lasting impression on those whom he surrounded.

The valued importance of cattle was taught to Don at an early age. Growing up on his family's dairy and Hereford cattle operation, Don could be seen as a passionate rancher and leader. Thanks to his involvement as president for Colorado FFA and the Colorado Junior Hereford Board, Don would continue his professional career as a cattleman throughout life. Influenced by his brother Jim, Don grew a fond interest of the Charolais breed and was intrigued by Charolais genetics. Together, the family established Yuma Colorado Charolais (YUCO), and soon after Don created Fancy Creek Charolais. Even today, Don's cattle company is still run and operated in Randolph, Kansas.

Much of Don's success has been closely accompanied by his wife, Charlotte Olsen. Don and Charlotte were married in September of 1975 in Mulvane, Kansas. Together, they had two children and one granddaughter. Their relationship was often spent ranching, travelling, and being involved in their community. Charlotte most enjoyed Don's curiosity, as they would frequently take day trips to visit new places and people.

Being an Agricultural Economics enthusiast, Don took a visionary perspective on Charolais genetics and the industry's marketing approach. He believed passionately in the importance of cattle shows to promote the Charolais breed. Don was involved on AICA committees such as Breed Improvement and Affiliate Committees where he also served as Vice Chairmen of the Affiliate Committee.

While Don harbored a devotion to the cattle industry, he also offered strong ties to youth in his community. Whether he was leading 4-H clubs or coaching little league teams, Don was eager to assist in helping his children's teams and youth organizations. He was invested in helping young people learn and grow, and often mentored college kids on his ranch. Because of Don's passion for youth and agriculture, memorials have been established in Don's name for the Kansas Junior Charolais Association, Riley County 4-H Foundation, and the Randolph United Methodist Church.

As an esteemed alumni, Don dedicated much of his free time to Kansas State University athletics. Don was an avid football fan and as a season ticket holder, he dedicated time to cheer on the Wildcats whenever he could. This passion for K-State drove his family members to join the support of the university, but Don's love for the college especially impacted his granddaughter.

One of Don's favorite people to guide within youth organizations was his own granddaughter, Nissa Olsen. Many who had the honor of knowing Don could see that he enjoyed the time spent with his ranch buddy. Living only 20 miles apart, Nissa was able to spend much of her childhood growing up and learning the passion that Don had grown for Charolais cattle. Today, Nissa has carried forth Don's Charolais legacy. Numerous summers and countless hours of time spent working in the barn on show cattle instilled a bond between the two that he cherished greatly. While they spent much of their time working, Don and Nissa also made sure to have fun. Whether they were attending football games, driving to town for ice cream, or bonding on Sunday mornings, Don was proud of Nissa and the relationship they shared.

"I would describe my grandpa as a servant leader. He was the type of person who always went out of his way to help others. I sat next to him every Sunday at church, it was just us two in the pew most mornings, but it was often the highlight of my week," -Nissa Olsen, granddaughter.

Don Olsen passed away on August 6, 2019, at his home. To know Don was to know the true compassion and dedication that a cattleman possesses. Even today, Don's legacy as a rancher, husband, grandfather, and friend will not be soon forgotten. Don was an authentic man with big dreams, as described by his wife, Charlotte.

"Have fun, be fair, help others, and do your part to create a better world."
