Bill Nottke

by: Samantha Corn

Bill Nottke is a long-time Charolais member who has reigned in a dream he set upon as a young boy. His spirit and enthusiasm when it comes to having the chance to give back to the breed that gave him so much is truly refreshing. When asked what has made his time with the breed so special, Nottke says, “The people are what make it special, the friends I’ve made and people I’ve met. The people have been my greatest satisfaction of being involved”.

Nottke was born and raised on his generational family farm in Clifton, Illinois. Amidst a changing agricultural time and a growing lack of land available for raising livestock, he raised and showed sheep through 4-H and FFA until he was in middle school. Nottke says that all of this changed when he came across a photo of the Charolais bull, Sam 951, in an edition of the Charolais Banner in his agricultural course at school. It appears once he was exposed to an animal of this sort of prestige, his life set on a different course. Young Bill Nottke made himself a promise then and there that he would one day raise his own Charolais cattle.

In pursuit of this dream, as Nottke grew older, he developed Riverdale Land & Livestock. Though at the time, it was just a hobby it quickly became an incredibly gratifying part of his life where he was able to see his childhood promise to himself upheld. Nottke started with 55 bred commercial cows and two registered Charolais bulls. Over time he added more and more registered cows accumulated from dispersal and private treaty sales. All this leading up to what is now a herd of all registered females.

His time with the Charolais breed has not only been with his cattle, but he has spent much time doing his part to improve the breed and association from the inside. Dating back to 1997 when he was an area director, he proceeded to hold many offices within the association. It can be said that Bill’s humble heart and giving attitude comes from a place of respect and gratitude for those who were in the association before him, leading and setting the precedence of excellence which we all know the Charolais breed to be. When reflecting on the leadership of those holding office at the time of his admittance to the association and those who came later, Bill says, “Their guidance, long range planning and fiscal responsibility along with our association staff has created the successful entity we enjoy today.”

Not only does Bill understand the importance of appreciation for those who have helped guide the association, but he also holds the youth and younger generations of Charolais breeders and agriculture enthusiasts to a high level of significance as well. Alongside his family, Bill has made a point to be involved with as many youth organizations as possible. Their goal to assist and influence these programs has created a cycle of opportunity to give back which Bill considers one of his biggest pleasures.

Though Bill Nottke has had many incredible achievements, it is hard for him to pinpoint one as his biggest accomplishment. This could be attributed to a mindset focused on always progressing and becoming better than before. However, one of the main successes Bill does recognize would have to be the many lifelong friends he has made since stepping foot into the family we have among the Charolais breed.

Bill says, “I would just like to thank my ranch managers, Butch Sr. and Jennifer Alsup, for all they do to keep the operation running smoothly and continuing to improve the Charolais herd.” Nottke acknowledged that it’s mostly their work that enables him to be a part of the livestock industry. His family is also due a large portion of his gratitude for allowing him to miss several ball games and dance recitals while he is off somewhere being a cowboy.
