Featuring WCR Open Heifers, Bred Heifers, and Genetic Packages on Show Circuit Online

Private Treaty Starting in October

WCR Open Heifers, Bred Heifers and Proven Cows

We don't sell females every year, this is an opportunity to secure WCR genetics from our very best cow families & bloodlines backed by generations of breed leading phenotypes with genotypes back by unbiased competition within large contemporary groups. The bulls you see sell every April are the product of this female base.

National Sale Offering

J & J Trust is excited to be offering at the 46th National Charolais Sale the choice out of our top 30 open heifers from the 2024 calf crop. The ET heifers are out of some of the donor cows listed below, and we also present natural-born heifers out of the LT Brenda line of females we maintain. Top sellers from recent Wright Charolais, Grand Hills, and National Sales that are in our herd are producing these outstanding heifers. Imagine what they can bring to your operation!

J & J Trust will be also offering 25 head of bred heifers at the National Sale, out of the same bloodlines as mentioned above. They are bred for March calving to LT Tioga, LT Affinity, and LT Remington. These top females were handpicked to retain in our own herd, but we are offering this select chance to get in on the action. A purchase here would be a great addition for your herd!

A truly admirable set of heifers.

THANK YOU

A SPECIAL THANKS GOES OUT TO ALL OF THE BIDDERS, BUYERS AND SUPPORTERS WHO MADE
"THE SOUTHERN BELLES" FEMALE SALE A SUCCESS!

Jed and Tracy Watze

I N T R O D U C I N G

A huge thank you to the progressive businessmen that invested in the future of the Charolais breed and the Aces Wild Ranch with their purchase of AWR Alley Cat 933 & AWR Alley May 4111 ET in the 2024 "Southern Belle's". This is just the ground floor on an exciting venture for the group, and we are thankful for their trust in the Aces Wild Ranch.

Developing replacement heifers to be productive cows

Replacement heifers are the future of your herd. Whether buying or raising replacements from within your own operation, their success and contribution to the herd depends on a sound development program. Ultimately, the goal is to get replacement heifers ovulating earlier and contributing to the operation as healthy, productive brood cows sooner.

Vaccination

To properly start priming the immune system, all calves should receive foundational calf vaccines and boosters as part of their weaning protocol, beginning around 60 to 90 days of age. Prior to their being AI'd or exposed to a bull, they should receive another modified live vaccine (MLV) to provide immunity toward pathogens that could cause loss of pregnancy.

Use a vaccine such as BOVILIS® VISTA® 5 VL5 SQ CFP that's shown effective against the common pathogens that cause respiratory disease, fetal infection, pregnancy loss, and reproductive disease, such as infectious bovine rhinotracheitis (IBR), bovine virus diarrhea virus (BVD) Types 1 & 2, bovine respiratory syncytial virus (BRSV), parainfluenza<sub>3</sub> virus (PI<sub>3</sub>), Campylobacter fetus (vibrio) and leptospirosis.

Timing of vaccines is important, relative to breeding. Administer vaccines at least 30 days prior to breeding season to help minimize any negative vaccine effects on fertility, as well as embryonic losses due to infectious reproductive diseases.

Nutrition

Getting calves off to a good start and gaining efficiently is an important component of a successful reproductive career. Heifers should be fed separately from mature cows to get the proper nutrition they need without competition. Feed replacement heifers a quality, well-balanced ration that supports the appropriate growth rate to reach puberty and sexual maturity in the right time frame. Consult your veterinarian or nutritionist to design a heifer development ration.

Parasite Management

Managing parasites is important for optimal immune function and reproductive health. Research shows that a parasite burden doesn't need to be large before it negatively affects pregnancy rates and calf health. Deworming before pregnancy or at the start of the breeding season has been proven to result in more pregnancies, and healthier calves with better survival rates.

A good rule of thumb is to deworm heifers at the time of weaning or on arrival, and again prior to breeding them. An additional deworming may be needed depending on the time of year and parasite burden in the group. Deworming cattle doesn't have to be labor intensive. Using feed and mineral forms requires relatively little time and labor while being highly effective.

A valuable tool to implement with deworming is to do fecal egg count reduction test (FECRT) to determine the effectiveness of deworming. You can request a free FECRT kit from your Merck Animal Health representative.

Reproductive Performance

Tools like reproductive tract scoring can be performed six to eight weeks before the start of the heifer's first breeding season to determine 1) the percentage of heifers that are cycling, 2) those that are close to having their first cycle and 3) those that are too immature to breed. This tool helps indicate the reproductive readiness of beef heifers.

After heifers reach the proper size and weight to enter the pubescent period and sexual maturity, a simple heat synchronization program can help them to come in heat. For operations using AI or ET, SenseHub® Cow Calf monitoring technology helps detect estrus, indicates the ideal insemination windows, and alerts to potential reproductive issues.

Summary

A thorough and comprehensive developmental program for replacement heifers will ensure the success of your operation today and the stability of your herd for years to come. Work with your veterinarians and nutritionists to ensure you're using the right protocols for proper development.

SenseHub Cow Calf is not intended to diagnose, treat, cure, or prevent any disease in animals. For the diagnosis, treatment, cure, or prevention of diseases in animals, you should consult your veterinarian. # NEW OPPORTUNITIES, NEW TOOLS

The Future of Charolais Genetics

Brett Spader
Executive Vice President

As we enter deeper into the fall, it has been incredibly rewarding to witness a marked increase in demand for Charolais genetics. In the large calf runs at an auction market level, savvy bull buyers are realizing record prices given for their Charolais-sired calves. No matter the hundred-weight price, Charolais feeder cattle deliver more total payweight—with many reports eclipsing $2,000 for calves “off the cow”. This incredible demand underscores a definitive fact in today’s beef industry, that we have to do more with less. Charolais genetics allow cow-calf producers to do just that, outperforming their black-hided counterparts in terms of gain and pounds on the scale. This flexibility of performance has even allowed some producers to move their calving dates back, to reduce winter supplementation while taking full advantage of their forage base. Like yours, in my beef operation every dollar counts—and efficiencies such as these are important to share with your bull buying customers.

In several cases, we are getting feedback from bull buyers that tried another breed in their bull battery but are now making their way to our performance specialists as they fully realize that payweight starts here. The future continues to brighten, as our market research reports those who will have 100% Charolais bull batteries will be expected to increase by 8% over the next 3 years.

Fall bull sales have followed suit, with robust response to Charolais bulls offered at auction. Often we are seeing record-high averages, as bull buyers from across the country realize the need for the genetic advantage for growth and red meat production. In addition to auctions, those selling bulls private treaty are receiving calls and selling their inventories quickly.

Most beef economists agree, cow herd expansion will take some time. Whether it’s access to capital, age of operators, or other market forces; the U.S. beef supply chain is quickly coming to a sharp focus point on ranch and feedlot performance with the added retail product yield that Charolais offers. In speaking with cattle feeders, the trend of 1500-1600 pound fed cattle is expected to increase next year. Very few genetic options offer the ability to capitalize on heterosis and this level of performance without losing value on yield grade discounts—with an important added point of health. The avoidance of Bovine Congestive Heart Failure is a major concern for cattle feeders, with pen losses in some cases approaching 5-7%. Our breed is in a position to help solve this problem. A recent summary of the risk indicators across the all-breed line-up of three major bull studs illustrated this best, as Charolais outperformed the alternatives and offered the lowest average risk factor across each A.I. sire inventory.

So where do we go from here?

There’s a lot of “new” that will be presented at our fall 2024 Board of Directors meetings.

New Market Access for Char-sired Feeder Cattle and Fed Cattle Our staff will provide updates on new initiatives around building retail demand for Charolais genetics. Projects that concentrate on nutritive value, tenderness, carbon footprint, packer acceptance, branded beef programs, supply chain cooperatives, and tactics to align with emerging retail forces will be highlighted in great detail.

Additionally, we will share details about marketing opportunities for feeder cattle, which will directly tie these market signals to registered Charolais bulls while rewarding bull buyers with added marketing outlets at the auction market and video sale level.

New Data Initiatives

For us to go where we need to go, data will be key. We are excited to share information about new data initiatives which can allow breeders and producers of all sizes to best understand the efficiency, end product merit, and supply chain relevance of their breeding decisions.

New Genetic Selection Tools

Currently, we are positioning four new EPD and index traits to assist breeders and bull buyers in their selections. Genomics and actual

American-International CHAROLAIS Association

The AICA is the official registry for Charolais and Charbray cattle in the United States. Charolais cattle were first brought to the U.S. in 1936. In 1957, the American Charolais Breeders Association and the International Charolais Breeders Association merged forming the present AICA.

Membership in the AICA is obtainable when the applicant has ownership in at least one animal, and has paid the initial membership fee of $125. AICA annual dues are $100.

DNA Fees

As of January 1, 2024. Samples received at the lab after 12-15-22 will reflect the new price.
 100K - $40 ($45 for hair)
 H/P - $20
 BPA- $5 (As of June 1, 2024)
 Color Dilutor - $25

PA Policy as of 9/1/24

Donor dams and AI sires born after January 1, 2020 are required to be tested for Bovine Progressive Ataxia (BPA), prior to the registration of progeny and/or additional progeny. Animals that have a 100K DNA result on file, will only need to have the BPA test added to their profile. Animals without a 100K on file, will need to have the 100K and BPA ran.

Expedited Registration Work - NEW FEES

If an animal needs to be registered within a day or two a rush fee of $75 ($150 non members) will be added to work. Once the animal is registered you can pull it up online to view the registration number. The new certificate will be mailed out the following day. We also offer FedEx mailing for additional $75 ($150 non members).

Year letter for 2024 is M

Record your 2024 born calves using AICA's online system. Add the data as the calves are born; continue to update the records as you add weaning and yearling data. Register the calves at any time by adding their name.

Performance Deadline Approaching

Performance data must be submitted to the AICA office by December 1 to be included in the January 2025 Genetic Analysis. Please make sure calf data, weights and weigh data have been submitted online or on forms to AICA.

ONLINE TIPS

Transfers cannot be done on-line if the paper has already been issued. The original paper must be returned to AICA. Animals registered on-line can be held in the system for transfer or print later. Many members find it helpful to hold all the newly registered animals in the system. No need to chase papers around.

When using a non-Charolais parent, follow the example given on the entry screen. For a non-Charolais female type FNF-XXXX, for a non-Charolais male type FNM-XXXX. You may also use breed codes to indicate the breed of the non-Charolais animal but be sure to use 4 digits (example: FNM-ANAN). We can add the pedigree of your other breed animal but need a copy of the pedigree 1st. The fee to add a pedigree is $20.

Be sure to click the "register" box and the "save" button at the bottom of the registration screen if you want the animal registered. The registration number will pop up in the middle of the screen or you'll get an error message telling you what boxes you have missed.

Online Payment for AICA

Online bill pay is now available to all active members. Once you are logged into www.charolaisusa.com, you will go under "My Account" then "Account Payment."

Online Payments for CPI

Online bill pay is now available to all CPI members. You will receive a monthly statement from our accounting department. Just a quick tap of "View & Pay Invoice" and you will be prompted to a second screen to enter your debit or credit card info.

POUNDS PAY

By Heather Smith Thomas

NOVEMBER 21 2024

Charolais bulls can do a lot for commercial breeders, to add more pounds and more profit to their calves. Loyd Sherburn and Jim Davis work together to market Home Ranch cattle (in Nevada) on Superior. Home Ranch buys Charolais bulls from DeBrycker. Loyd is a big believer in Char Advantage, and Jim continues to push his Superior Livestock customers to use Char Advantage.

Jim Davis has been marketing cattle with Superior Livestock since 1988. “When I first started, the genetics out West were not the best. We looked into trying to improve all the cattle and had people like Lee Leachman come out to meet with ranchers and talk about genetics; we did that for about 12 years. At nearly every little town in the West we had a meeting and bought everyone a steak who came to our meetings. We started going to Leachmans to buy bulls. At the same time, I had some customers who wanted really good Charolais bulls,” Davis says.

“A friend of mine, Monty Bruck and I took about 10 days and traveled around, looking at Charolais bulls. We ended up in Great Falls, Montana looking at the DeBruycker herd, and really liked those cattle. We’ve been buying bulls from that herd now for more than 30 years. For my customers who want Charolais, we buy at least one load of bulls from DeBruckers every year,” he says.

“That family is awesome and their bulls work very well for us out on the desert. I bought another group of bulls this spring at their sale. There are many other good Charolais bulls around the country, but we fell in love with these. The DeBruyckers come to our Winnemucca video sale every year and bid on the calves sired by their bulls. They know those calves will do well in the feedlot,” Davis says.

“We always have their calves on Superior Sunrise because we want to promote the Charolais breed. I try to get all my customers involved in the Charolais Advantage, and we are hoping the Charolais Association will become involved in promoting these cattle. They need to go out and talk to feedlots, get them on an email list and let them know what cattle are selling and where—and get more buyer interest in these Charolais and Charolais-cross cattle,” he says.

These are great cattle, and they make a great cross. “The Black Angus took the top of the market the past 2 years, but in the sale this year, the Charolais got within about 2 cents of the top Angus and were really close. And we get the extra pounds with both the straight Charolais and crossbred calves, so those producers get more total dollars for their calves even if the price per pound is 2 or 3 cents lower than for black calves. Dollars per head is what counts,” says Davis.

“We have our Charolais section every Wednesday and at the Winnemucca sale we start with the Charolais section and sell about an hour’s worth of all Charolais calves. We’d like the Charolais Association to help us market these cattle.” This creates more customers for the breeders selling bulls, creating a better market for everyone.

The Charolais Advantage helps producers get more for their calves. It costs a dollar more per head to have them in this program at Superior (and other video sales) which is very reasonable, for the added interest in these cattle and more buyers bidding on them. “It’s all about marketing, and getting top dollar for the value of these cattle.”

Using a Charolais bull on an Angus cow will always add more pounds to the calves. “You will get at least another 20 to 30 pounds, and often more. A rancher can buy a $5000 Charolais bull and use that bull on a commercial herd and get more pounds to sell. To get that same kind of weight on an all-black calf, you’d have to pay about $15,000 for an Angus bull that will do this.”

You can buy one of the cheaper-end Charolais bulls and get hybrid vigor plus the complementary aspect of two breeds and get a bigger calf, with less investment in the bulls. “You’d need the very top end of the Angus bulls to get that weight,” says Davis. It makes good economic sense for commercial producers to use a cheaper Charolais bull, and get a lot more bang for the buck. Davis has one big customer who has black cows and sells all the female calves and uses just DeBruycker bulls to have good crossbred calves. The buyers love those calves.

“All of our customers run cattle on BLM allotments in Nevada, Idaho and Oregon and this is mainly desert country. The Charolais cattle hold up very well in these conditions, and Charolais bulls hold up better than black bulls. Being white they do better in the heat, as well. They fit our country; they will climb to the top of the mountains and service more cows,” he says.

These bulls last longer and you don’t have to buy as many, and when you are done with those bulls or the crossbred cows and sell them, they weigh more. “The Charolais bull may weigh 200 to 300 pounds more than an Angus bull. With the prices bulls are bringing now—more than $1 per pound—this is quite a bit more money. This is why we like Charolais cattle!” says Davis.

Clint Sexson, a field man for the Charolais Journal, works with purebred breeders and commercial ranchers through the Char Advantage and other programs—to try to get them to utilize these programs to add value to their calves. “Often it’s a combination of verification programs that help you get more value, as well as the extra pounds from crossbreeding,” he says.

These calves weigh more, and if a person has added value, it means more dollars. “Most of the producers I work with are using Charolais bulls on English-based cows that are running on mostly short-grass extensive range conditions with minimal management. If a person can get more pounds per acre, this is huge.” Most people can’t afford to buy more land and expand the operation so it’s important to produce more pounds of beef from the acres they have.

“There’s no official study to prove it, but if you were to go head-to-head with any other breed, I believe you get at least 50 extra pounds with a Charolais bull, and in many situations it might be closer to 75 to 100 extra pounds. The return on your investment is better and you also have a more efficient calf to go into the feedlot,” he says.

“Charolais bulls are aggressive breeders. They go out and cover a lot of cows. Most producers can use them 5 or 6 years; they have better longevity than Angus and you don’t need to replace them as often,” says Sexson.

There’s a lot of talk right now in the beef industry about congestive heart failure in feedlot cattle; it has become a serious issue, especially in Angus cattle. “We used to think this was just a high altitude problem, but now it’s a problem at any level. The purebred Charolais definitely have an advantage because they are not susceptible to this condition; they generally test better than most other breeds and can add this advantage to crossbred feeder cattle as well. The smoky or blond calves have less risk.”

Charolais bulls can be used on a wide variety of cows and produce good calves. “Many are used on high-quality cows but there are also a lot of people who buy them to breed cheaper, put-together, common multi-breed cows, to produce better calves. This may be seen more in the South, but there are also examples here in Oregon where Charolais bulls are used on Corriente and Longhorn cows and do a super job of creating a more even calf crop,” he says. This makes those calves easier to market.

“The breeders who sell bulls are often supporting their commercial customers any way they can, and some of them actively buy their customers’ calves.” This makes a ready market for those calves and those producers won’t have to worry about how and where they will sell their calves. That relationship is valuable and the pure-bred breeders can also see how their bulls stack up against other breeders’ bulls, enabling them to see how the calves do in the feedlot.

Some ranchers also like the Charolais crossbred cows, especially in a desert environment. “They have better longevity and are very hardy. They breed up well, and get out and travel. This is one advantage that we often don’t talk about, but that cow can contribute the same kind of traits as the Charolais bull; those calves have a little more performance and if you follow them through the chain they grow and yield. They have the extra pounds at weaning, and on the rail,” he says.

“People need to market their product to best advantage. Producers can be either just a price-taker or a marketer, and this can definitely affect their bottom line.” CJ

GET TO KNOW YOUR DIRECTOR

Josie Schrader, Area 3

Josie Schrader
Area 3

Hey, everyone! I am Josie Schrader from Wells, Kansas, and I am currently serving as the AIJCA Area 3 Director. I live on a ranch with my family, where we raise Charolais and Simmental seedstock cattle. I am a senior at Minneapolis High School.

Outside of the show barn, what else are you up to?

Besides working with my animals, I am highly active in my school athletics. I participate in volleyball, basketball, track, and dance. While staying occupied with those activities, I am a member of my school's FFA chapter and National Honor Society group. In my free time, I enjoy hanging out with my friends and family, while also playing fetch with my dog "Roxy."

What do you want to accomplish with your time on the AIJCA Board?

I have always looked up to junior board members in the past. So, while serving on the board I want to be helpful and approachable to junior members. By encouraging younger members, I hope to inspire them the way I was when I first started.

Tell us about your 1st Junior Nationals:

I have attended every Junior National since I was a baby, but the first Junior National I could participate in was at St. Paul Minnesota in 2015. I have dreamed of showing at a Charolais Junior National since I could remember tagging along with my older cousins and brother. So, this moment was special for me, as well as my family. I brought my first Charolais Composite heifer "Jasmine," and I got to compete in some of my favorite contests with my best friends. This Junior National lit the fire for years to follow.

What are your future plans?

I plan to attend Kansas State University next fall and major in Agriculture Business.

What is one thing you would say to someone interested in joining the Charolais breed? Our Charolais Junior Organization is unique. We are large enough to be competitive with high quality cattle, while also small enough to be a close-knit family oriented breed association. The Charolais breed has some of the greatest people and are very welcoming. So, those individuals interested in our breed should have no problem getting involved.

If you could have lunch with any 3 people who would they be?

Sydney McLaughlin, Glen Powell, and Jerome Tang

How can we use our platform for good? By using our platform in a positive manner, we can promote our family-oriented organization. The junior board can work closely with the senior board to help encourage new member activity.

actual data are key to creating reliability, so we will also introduce how we seek to make this more cost effective and streamlined for breeders.

New Marketing and Communications Tools

Success in Marketing and staying informed are key to every member's success. Updates on new tools which attract new members and bull buyers, while strengthening their understanding of the best ways to use our genetics will be provided.

New AI-guided Management and Marketing Tools At this meeting, we will debut the early work on a very innovative approach to managing the data of genetic decisions, marketing, and supplying the beef chain with never-before seen tools for the communication of the value of genetics. While still in its initial stages, this level of technology brings a whole new approach to the way our genetics are valued.

Our committee meetings and board meetings are unique in that membership is encouraged to attend. We feel this real-time input and communication is key to create the best possible plans for growth and execution of the vision we are creating. If you weren't able to join us in Kansas City, be sure to join via Zoom in the future or look for a recap on www.charolaisusa.com or in the Charolais Journal.

AN AMERICAN IN AUSTRALIA

By Ethan Shoemake
2024-2025 AIJCA Secretary

NOVEMBER 26

From kangaroos, koalas, and Charolais oh my! Life “Down Under” was invigorating. While on the 2024 Charolais Youth Exchange, myself along with eight other international youth experienced the sights and sounds of the Australian agricultural industry. For 12 days we explored the countryside and got up close and personal with indigenous wildlife and the Charolais operations that coexisted with them.

I started off my trip with three flights from Tulsa, Okla., LAX Airport, and Sydney, Aus. After what seemed like forever on a plane, I was officially in Brisbane, Queensland, Australia! The very next day we attended the Brisbane EKKKA, one of the major cattle shows in Australia. While there, I was fortunate enough to sash the Supreme Charolais Female and watch from the sidelines as Charolais cattle swept through the Interbreed Supreme Drive, claiming both Supreme Interbreed Bull and Supreme Pair. After the show day was over, the Australian Charolais Youth Society Junior Board members took us out for a night of sightseeing through Brisbane. We completed our stay in Brisbane with a highly awaited visit to the Lone Pine Koala Sanctuary and Kangaroo Reserve, seeing koalas in person was very much appreciated!

Our first operation visit was to Branchview Charolais to meet Andrew and Jemma Postle. The Postle’s were from Toowoomba and were very hospitable, even treating us to an early afternoon “tea.” The next stop of the day was to Palgrove, located outside of Roma. Palgrove is a seedstock and commercial beef operation that specializes in the usage of Charolais, Angus, and Ultra Black genetics. Just in time for their bull sale, we were fortunate enough to see an impressive set of Charolais and Ultra Black bulls that were getting the “finishing touches” just before sale day.

Day three brought on the Roma Saleyards, the largest saleyard in the Southern Hemisphere! A unique look into the feedlot side of Australian animal agriculture. Afterwards, the group headed to Moongool Charolais. A prolific Charolais operation in Australia, who still has the record for the highest bull ever sold on Australian soil. The bull in question, Moongool Revolution sold for a record of $265,000 to 4 Ways Charolais. The Price family run Moongool Charolais and have since expanded their herds to also include Brahman cattle.

Our final operation tour was 4 Ways Charolais, found in Inverell, NSW, Australia. Owned and operated by the Whitechurch family, we had an incredible tour via farm trucks as we tackled the muddy conditions and got to see the Moongool Revolution bull on the job in pasture on cows. Amy Whitechurch, one of the Charolais Society of Australia’s Junior Board members, was also presented with her 2023 International Virtual Show Banner for having the champion purebred female. Next, we wrapped up our visits with a trip to ABRI and the University of New England where the researchers there are constantly working on different variations of sustainability and how Australian and international beef producers track genetics and fertility in their cattle. We wrapped up with presentations about Charolais in our respective countries, I’m happy to say the USA just does it better.

The final day of the 2024 Charolais Youth Exchange brought on another flight, a trip to Sydney, Aus., and seeing the Sydney Opera House via a harbor cruise! Many photo-ops were taken while on the water. After our harbor cruise was finished, we set out for a bit of shopping and sightseeing around Sydney. Before I wrap this amazing opportunity up, I would be amiss to not shout out Colin Rex, the head of the Charolais Society of Australia. We couldn’t have done the trip without him! There are so many people to thank for the opportunity to represent our breed on the international level, and I am so humbled that I got the privilege of doing so. I never anticipated seeing Charolais in Australia, but I also never thought I’d be the American in Australia! Crikey! 🇺🇸

Obituary

Joyce Eileen Wakefield, 81, of Hartland, MN passed away on September 6, 2024, after a brave battle against an infection. She was born in Mankato in 1943 to loving parents Benedict and Margaret Eustice. She was raised on the family farm near Janesville and grew up having all kinds of adventures with her 4 brothers and sisters. She often recalled idyllic stories of her childhood to her granddaughters like how she'd dress up her kittens and take them for rides in a wagon. A love for kittens is one of many things she passed on to her children and her grandchildren.

Joyce attended Janesville school until 8th grade and later graduated from Sacred Heart in Waseca in 1961. Prior to getting married, Joyce worked for several doctors in Minneapolis and Rochester. She was united in marriage to Larry Wakefield on January 20, 1968. She was then a dedicated stay-at-home mom to her 3 boys as they raised them on the Wakefield family cattle farm. She later balanced farm and family life with jobs at the New Richland Care Center and at E.F. Johnson/Itron of Waseca.

Joyce loved all things esthetic but in an intentional, cozy way that brought comfort to her family. She was always trying out new recipes and decorating for each new season and holiday. She had a knack for gardening and loved being amongst her flowers and vegetables. Her home was a warm and loving environment where she frequently lent an ear to family and friends alike. She was gentle and patient and had a quiet but very deep faith.

Left to cherish her memory are her husband Larry, her sons Kyle (Emily), Travis (Laurie), and Dan, her granddaughters Lauren, Naomi and Abby, her sister Pat, sisters-in-law Monica Priebe (Charlie) and Ruth Eustice, brothers-in-law Lowell (Darlene) and John, extra special cousin friends Beth Knudson and Margaret Stewart, and many loving nieces and nephews on both sides of the family. She is preceded in death by her parents, brothers Richard and Dennis and sister Jan. Her grandchildren picture her dancing in heaven's gardens with her loved ones as they are serenaded by her favorite performers, Elvis, and Johnny Cash.

The family would like to thank the ICU and palliative care staff at Saint Mary's of Rochester for their thorough and compassionate care. A special thank you goes to nurse Wade who was by her side providing exceptional care most of the time she was hospitalized.

Obituary

Marvin Green passed away peacefully on Sept. 10, 2024, at his home, surrounded by multiple family members.

He was born July 27, 1936, in Saddle, Ark., to E.L. Green and Annabelle Pulley

Green. On June 5, 1965, he married the love of his life, Louanna Smith, and together they created a family legacy of love and devotion. Marvin passionately believed behind every great man is a great woman.

He attended elementary school in Salem, Ark., and high school in Mammoth Spring, Ark. Marvin graduated high school at the age of 15. He earned a baccalaureate degree from Arkansas State University at age 18; a master's degree at age 19 from Vanderbilt and a specialist degree from University of Mississippi.

He was a school counselor, assistant principal, principal, and superintendent in the public schools. Marvin was a college professor of sociology and psychology and served as dean of the West Plains campus of Missouri State University for 20 years. He was an avid supporter of the West Plains campus and fought diligently for its success. One of his greatest accomplishments was the development of the college nursing program. He was always appreciative of the community support of the university.

Marvin was a force. His life was full of challenges, and he was no stranger to demanding work. He was known to say, "All honest work is honorable." He led by example as was evidenced by his willingness to work his way through school, performing any job he could find. He milked cows, picked cotton and tomatoes, cleaned bathrooms, and did many other tasks while other students went home for holiday breaks. This allowed him to graduate debt-free.

Special awards of which he was the recipient include the Governor's Award for Excellence in Teaching, the MSU Distinguished Faculty Staff Award and the naming of the Marvin Green Conference Room on the MSU-WP campus. Additionally, he held numerous civic and community positions including president of the Fair Board, member of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary International District Governor.

Marvin was an active member of the Curry Street Church of Christ where he served in multiple capacities over 50 years as a teacher, elder and author of several publications. By his living example he demonstrated many lessons of Christianity. Through his years he was a committed and dedicated pupil, teacher, facilitator, and sharer of the gospel.

He had a passion for the gospel and education. He loved his wife and family and enjoyed farming and time spent with his Charolais cattle. Marvin was a member of the American-International Charolais Association for over 50 years. He treasured moments working with his family. You could not be around Marvin without learning something, whether it was in the classroom, in the seat of the family farm truck or stretching barb wire. He showed intensity and professionalism that was balanced by a sharp wit and keen sense of humor.

He was preceded in death by his parents, his brother Willie "Bill" Green and sister-in-law Dorothy Green.

He is survived by his wife of 59 years, Louanna; three sons K. Douglas Green (Sherri), Searcy, Ark., Christopher Green (Amy), West Plains, and Matt Green (Gina), West Plains; one daughter Kimberly Green, West Plains; six grandchildren Ashley Green, Miami, Fla., Caitlin Parks (Andrew), Austin, Texas, Hayden Green (Grace), Memphis, Tenn., Daegen Green, Springfield, Mo., Zane Green, Searcy, and Wynston Ellie Annabelle Green, West Plains; four great-grandchildren Theodore, Lauriel, Elowen and Endollion Parks, Austin, Texas; a very special nephew Mark Green (Laura), Houston, Texas; and two nieces Anne and Jan Green, Houston, Texas.

CHAROLAIS SPOTLIGHT

KALEN GROVES (17), BEGGS, OKLAHOMA

My name is Kalen Groves, and I am from Beggs, Oklahoma. I am 17 and in my senior year of high school. I have two younger brothers named Reid and Kord. We along with our parents operate a cow calf operation. I'm an active member of the Oklahoma FFA and I serve as the Beggs FFA Chapter President. I currently hold a spot on the Oklahoma Department of Agriculture Youth Council. In my free time I enjoy hanging out in the barn with my brothers.

How did you get into showing cattle? And more specifically Charolais?

Kalen – Some of my earliest memories are playing in the shavings at the Tulsa State Fair during the Open Show. I couldn't wait until I turned 9 so that I could finally show my first heifer at the Tulsa State Fair and the Oklahoma Youth Expo. My involvement in the Charolais breed is truly a special story. My dad's family is very involved in the Simmental breed and that is what I have shown until recently. My mom's aunt and uncle, Sue and Duane Jeffery raise Charolais cattle and raised the very popular "JoJo" heifer that won shows all over the country. A couple years ago we put in a few of their embryos and that's how our involvement in the breed started. The backbone of our Charolais cow herd is the only heifer we had that calving season. My Uncle Duane always wanted us to show a Charolais heifer and last fall his wish finally came true. That cow's first heifer calf "Sparkles" quickly found her spot on our show string. Last March, the day before the Charolais show at the Oklahoma Youth Expo my Uncle Duane passed away. Although he never got to watch me show a Charolais heifer I know he watches me from heaven every time I step in the ring. Now almost a year after the first Charolais heifer entered our barn our entire show string consists of Charolais cattle that we have raised. I enjoy getting to carry on my Uncle Duane's legacy by exhibiting the breed that he spent so much of his time working on. Another cool connection of my family to the Charolais breed is that my Great Aunt on my dad's side showed the Champion Charolais steer at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo in 1966 and showed in the grand drive during the rodeo the very first year the rodeo was held in the Astrodome. .

What gets you out of bed in the morning? What's your why?

Kalen – The drive to be a person my younger self would be proud to look up to. Younger Kalen would have never imagined the opportunities that I have had and what I have accomplished in the show ring and life in general.

What is one thing you'd tell somebody to get them involved in our breed?

Kalen – I would tell somebody to get involved in the Charolais breed because the breed association puts on an enjoyable Junior Nationals that gives you the opportunity to meet people from all across the country.

You've been allowed to create the highest quality show heifer ever made, what does she look like

Kalen – My perfect show heifer would be structurally sound, good looking from the side, and soft made. She would have good hair, a good attitude and would be white!

What is your favorite memory in the show ring?

Kalen – My favorite memory in the show ring just recently happened at the Tulsa State Fair. This year I won Champion Charolais heifer and getting that champion handshake is something I won't ever forget. Although I was the one at the end of the halter it was truly a family effort, and that win wouldn't have been possible without my brother Reid. Getting to walk out of the ring and hug my brother is a memory I won't forget. Reid was also reserve champion Charolais composite heifer. It was a rewarding experience to have two heifers in the grand drive at the Tulsa State Fair that we raised.

What are you most looking forward to at the Greatest Show in Springfield, MO?

Kalen – I'm looking forward to seeing old friends and making new ones!

**Interviewed by AIJCA Board*

Global is an extraordinary Atlas son that checks all the boxes to be a future Herd Sire in the making. He has garnered a lot of attention from visitors from all over the world. This awesome prospect is out of the great LT Sheila 337 donor, making him a maternal brother to some of the top bulls, including LT Premier 3304. Global's Dam Sheila 337 has many daughters in production with 9 head currently in the open replacement pen! He brings extra shape, dimension, and maternal power to the equation. Super great foot structure with a smooth made shoulder and clean headed. Not only is he a high caliber individual to observe, but his numbers are spectacular with 10 EPD rankings in the top 20%.
